TRAWLER SPRAY IN AGAIN.

Capt. Thomas Driving Craft Like Regular Market Fisherman.

The steam trawler Spray has got a great move on, and Capt. Oliver Thomas has certainly broken her spell of hard luck. She went out Thursday and was back at T wharf Monday with a dandy fare, having 84,000 pounds of fresh fish. This is the third trip Capt. Thomas has made in short order and on both previous occasions he struck the market.

Sch. Alice M. Guthrie, Capt. Martin Guthrie, was also in yesterday. Capt. Guthrie has gone and returned with the Spray like a twin brother since the steamer has been under Capt. Thomas. He also made a successful trip, and has about 60,000 pounds of ground fish on board.

HUMANITY ABOVE LAW.

So Newfoundland Minister of Justice Released Sch. Meteor.

Vessel Only Wanted Enough Provisions To Reach No. Sydney.

The St. John's, N. F., Herald of Aug. 29, gives the following interesting particulars regarding the seizure and release of the salt banker Meteor of this port:

"H. W. LeMessurier, Deputy Minister of Customs, was yesterday apprised by Collector J. F. Williams, of Bay Bulls, that he had seized the Gloucester banker Meteor, Capt. Hines, from the Flemish Cap, which was taking aboard stores from Weeks' wharf, having put below two barrels of flour when he seized her, in defiance of the colonial laws, American vessels in our non-treaty waters having no rights of entry save for wool, water, shelter or repair.

"Capt. Hines drove at once to town and saw Mr. LeMessurier, to whom he represented the facts of the case. His vessel was five months from home, had fished up the west coast, out through the Straits and down to the Flemish Cap, and had run to land because short of provisions and was only taking enough to carry her to Sydney, where he could procure ample stocks under the Canadian modus vivendi."

"Mr. LeMessurier communicated with Sir E. P. Morris, Minister of Justice, who, seeing that the case was one where the dictates of humanity would override the law directed that the vessel be released and the captain notified that the Colony would not assert its right of seizure and fine in this case.

"Capt. Hines informed the Herald today, when seen at the Custom House, that he highly appreciated this consideration extended to him. His vessel has had poor luck, only 120,000 pounds fish for so long a trip, the smallest catch in his twenty years at the Banks. He drives out this afternoon to rejoin her."

STARTED IN FISH DRYER.

Rockland, Maine, Had an $80,000 Fire on Sunday.

Fanned by a strong southeast wind, a fire which started in the dryer of the plant of A. C. McLean & Co., wholesale fish dealers at Rockland, Me., swept over an acre and a half of water front property Sunday afternoon, destroying the fish plant, a large lime shed, two lime kilns, a large storehouse, about 500 feet of the trestle work of the Lime Rock railroad and about $6000 worth of cured fish owned by H. B. & C. O. Perry, wholesale fish dealers. The estimate loss is $80,000 and is nearly covered by insurance.

SALT FISHERMEN.

To Make North Sydney, N. S., a Fall Fitting Station.

A North Sydney, C. B., dispatch in a Sydney exchange says: "A report has been current here for a few days that a fleet of 40 or 50 of American salt fishing vessels will come here shortly to fit out for the fall fishing and that hereafter this port will be depended upon for supplies to a greater extent than in the past. Some of the Gloucester fleet at least will come, as there are a number of vessels still out on their first trip which will save considerable time by obtaining their stores and other supplies here."
